

2008 PINOT NOIR

Ruby red in colour. Aromas reminiscent of cherry/strawberry with some spice characters evident as a result of 12 months maturation in French oak barrels. The palate is soft, fine silky tannins and balanced acidity. A wonderful drop, enjoy now.

GLASS BOTTLE

2008 RIESLING

The nose is a myriad of citrus and perfumed fruit. The palate is full and lively and shows a multi layered mix of the fruit aromas with a lengthy crisp acid finish. Pale gold in colour. Enjoy now.

GLASS BOTTLE

2008 PINOT NOIR

Ruby red in colour. Aromas reminiscent of cherry/strawberry with some spice characters evident as a result of 12 months maturation in French oak barrels. The palate is soft, fine silky tannins and balanced acidity. A wonderful drop, enjoy now.

GLASS BOTTLE

2008 RIESLING

The nose is a myriad of citrus and perfumed fruit. The palate is full and lively and shows a multi layered mix of the fruit aromas with a lengthy crisp acid finish. Pale gold in colour. Enjoy now.

GLASS BOTTLE

Growing vines in the Midlands Tasmania which experiences very cold winters and long summer days seemed the perfect recipe for good wine and we wondered why no one else had tried. Barton is better known for growing wool, establishing the first vineyard in this region (2001) was a far cry from the shearing shed! The venture into viticulture proved a success. We grow pinot noir, riesling and a sparkling will soon be released. Midlands Tasmania has a proud farming history spanning 200 years. Hard to believe it has taken that long for a bottle of wine..

enjoy!

info@bartonvineyards.com.au
www.bartonvineyards.com.au

Growing vines in the Midlands Tasmania which experiences very cold winters and long summer days seemed the perfect recipe for good wine and we wondered why no one else had tried. Barton is better known for growing wool, establishing the first vineyard in this region (2001) was a far cry from the shearing shed! The venture into viticulture proved a success. We grow pinot noir, riesling and a sparkling will soon be released. Midlands Tasmania has a proud farming history spanning 200 years. Hard to believe it has taken that long for a bottle of wine..

enjoy!

info@bartonvineyards.com.au
www.bartonvineyards.com.au

